PRODUCTION

To ensure a consistent supply of top-quality fruits, we have established a network of registered farmers who provide us with the finest produce.

We work closely with a network of registered farmers who cultivate the fruits used in our products. These farmers receive expert consultation from us, enabling them to employ sustainable farming practices and optimize their harvests. Once the fruits are harvested at their peak ripeness, they are swiftly transported to our factory in Moragollagama.

Our production process begins with thorough inspections and sorting of the fruits to guarantee only the finest specimens are used. The fruits then undergo a meticulous process of extraction, where their pulp is carefully separated

Garden freshness to your life

This process retains the natural flavors, textures, and nutritional benefits of the fruits, resulting in high-quality fruit pulps that captivate the senses. Our production team, consisting of skilled workers, ensures strict adherence to our commitment of delivering preservative-free products, upholding our reputation as a trusted provider of natural and healthy fruit pulps.
